Federal Regulations at 42 CFR §486.106 and §410.32 at a Glance

42 CFR §486.106 and §410.32 require portable x-ray suppliers, like TridentCare At Home, to obtain specific information at the time of a referral for portable x-ray services to ensure that the physician or nonphysician practitioner's order, as documented in the patient's medical record, complies with these regulations. Specifically, these regulations require that the physician or nonphysician practitioner who orders the service maintain documentation of medical necessity in the beneficiary's medical record. Additionally, the signed documentation of a written, electronic, or telephonic order should include the following data elements:

- Reason the x-ray exam is required
- Area of the body to be exposed
- Number of views needed
- A statement concerning the condition of the patient which indicates why portable x-ray services are necessary

Statement concerning the condition of the patient requiring portable services:

The exam(s) that I ordered for this patient were medically indicated and necessary for the above named patient's treatment and/or diagnosis. The results of the exam(s) have or will be used in the treatment of the patient's medical condition. For the reason(s) indicated above, the patient would find it physically and/or psychologically taxing to receive the exam(s) in a place other than the patient's home/residence.

Medical record attestation statement:

I hereby attest that the medical record entry for the date of service, noted above, accurately reflects the signatures and notations that I made in my capacity as ordering physician or nonphysician practitioner when I treated this patient. I do hereby attest that this information is true, accurate, and complete to the best of my knowledge. I understand that any falsification, omission, or concealment of a material fact related to the treatment of this patient may subject me to administrative, civil, or criminal liability.
